Spring Cleaning Checklist

Spring cleaning for a lot of home-owners can sometimes seem like a monumental undertaking, so we've come up with a thorough checklist to help you conquer your fears as well as those dust bunnies.

You can do as much or as little as you like, and we've organized in a way that's in bite sized pieces to make it more manageable for households who would rather take it in stride.

If you're parents with kids, you can make it more fun by getting them involved, and even a reward at the end to make sure they'll do a good job. It'll be good life lessons to set them up to maintain their own places in future.

In any case, here's our Home Spring Cleaning checklist:

It's easier to spring clean if there are clean flat uncovered spaces and less volume overall.

You will likely clean more often as it is an easy swipe, and make spring cleaning easier as there is less to tackle in the main heavy use locations.

If anything listed is unsafe for you for any reason, please only do items at your own safety level and discretion.

First Thoughts:

- Consider Decluttering organizing clutter into storage boxes or shelving is just that still clutter, just on a shelf or in a box.
- Finding the floor seriously for some people this is where to start, and that's OK. One step at a time. We all start somewhere. See more later in the article.
- Manageable Sections Breaking Spring Cleaning down to more manageable sections room by room (or further divide by tasks in the room so many per day/ cleaning episode.
- Addressing a "Hot Zone:" ie: Guest bedroom closet, for example or Sofa Table, messy kitchen corner – hot spots that are either dumping zones or clutter magnets. Clearing off the surfaces one day can make cleaning so much easier the next.
- Do Some / Hire Some: If for whatever reason it all seems to much, or portions of it seem too much there is always the option sooner or later on to call in for tactical reinforcements.
- Top to Bottom: (many like to start from the ceiling down such that as dust falls, it doesn't fall on what was just cleaned)

Declut	ttering / Editing:
Start w	vith the obvious:
– esse	ntially, all the easy decisions:
	empty water bottles, cans, recyclables, garbage (wrappers), boxes, grocery bags all over the
П	house Try room by rooms or closet by closets or corner by corner, or the stuff on a shair or appliance
	Try room by room; or closet by closet; or corner by corner, or the stuff on a chair or appliance (fridge/freezer) ng one section a day – even the smallest section, consistently can lead to very

0	nd purge: over/under sized clothing stale dated food and pantry items

Once you see progress you will likely want to keep going

Re-Homing Items:

Did your lifestyle change? Kids older or moved out? Stuff from the old place? "Inherited" your parents stuff? Moving? Downsizing?

Decluttering can be much easier if places are chosen or set up in advance of where these gently used items can find a new home – also diverting from landfill is an awesome feeling.

Thrift Stores:

- Many give proceeds or items to the marginalized this is a nice way of diverting from landfill, helping out another local person by them finding something a great price and also helping the community indirectly.
- Different thrift stores whether independently owned or box chain take different items some take furniture, others do not; some take tech, some do not; some focus on fashion, other focus on decore. Some take electronic recycling, others do not.
- If getting it all to one place at one time is the most important to you, ie "getting it out of the house" then Thrift Stores can be a good option. Some such as Mission Thrift Stores will send a truck to your home to pickup upon request (not every location, but many). Other smaller stores will send a truck with a small fee to cover the transportation cost ie: $25. But it does save lugging!

Recycling Centers (within Community Landfill):

Many Ontario Landfills have a recycling center – often outside of the weigh scale to make things faster – things such as cardboard, metal, hazardous waste (paint, batteries, fluorescent lightbulbs etc), electronic recycling and more.

Foodbank:

Excess food items that no longer fit your taste profile or for other reasons (that case of crackers)
 if they are not expired they can be donated to the food bank

- Even cat food that your cat loved until you bought a case of it, and then it decided it wasn't going to eat it anymore, is often most welcome at the food bank or animal shelters
- Many pet stores will take unopened cat/dog food donations and unused or clean toys and cat/dog beds on behalf of the shelter
- There are often carts or barrels at the exit of the grocery store for foodbank donations.
- Paper products welcome at foodbanks paper towels, toilet paper, facial tissue, these are often the most sought-after items

Pet Extras: Shelters and Wildlife Rescues:

- Will often take overstock of food, bowls, old bath towels, linens, bedsheets, lightly used dog beds, cat beds, pet toys, etc
- Many pet stores, such as Pet Value will take these in as donations in a crate at the front of the store
- Or lookup on Facebook for independent family owned pet stores or wildlife rescues such as Procyon Wildlife near Bradford, Ontario or Hobo Haven Rescue in St Jacobs (via Creature Comforts Pet Supply)
- We're sure there are some near you with a quick online search.

Women's Shelters / Homeless Shelters:

- These havens usually need the most essential to life items: Unopened soaps, toothbrushes, toothpaste, shampoos, feminine supplies, razers, deodorant, toilet paper, paper towels, mattresses, diapers, kitchenware cutlery, plates, glasses, cups, dishes, bath towels, face cloths
- many just escape with the clothes on their back and kids in hand and need to restart life from scratch
- Some will also take beds/bedding/mattresses in good condition (sometimes Goodwill shelters will take these too)

Your Local Community:

We sometimes don't realize the people in our own sphere of communication could do with a few things... everyone is making the dollars stretch from time to time, and we often don't know this is the case.

- Listing an item for free to our own friends list on Instagram/Facebook/social platform/ church/hobby group/sports groups etc.
- Listing an item for free or cheap on community social groups please do due diligence and street smarts to remain safe.
- Putting an item out at the end of the driveway for free or listing a price, where allowed. It's amazing how many of our neighbours could do with a widget or two.
- Community metal recyclers local places will often have the neighbourhood person to pickup old appliances
- The local appliance repair shop will often give new life to a stove we were no longer willing to invest in, and will give someone else a chance at purchasing an affordable appliance in the long run in addition to diverting from landfill, this can be a great feeling. They will often pickup free too.

Moving / Downsizing / Estate Decluttering:

- This deserves an article all on its own due to sheer volume as you know, however in addition to the above options especially Thrift Store Pickup at Your Location Option
- Estate Auction Agencies there are boutique agencies that handle the everyday household – you flag what you are willing to part with (ie sticky note), and they flag what they are willing to auction on your behalf They then confirm which items, determine a minimum bidding price and haul the stuff to their warehouse to post online
- Listing items yourself for sale or free online (or enlist a family member)

What You Need – Spring Cleaning Supplies

Supplies / Cleaners:

Some people like to pull out all their cleaners and tools prior to the project

If you run out, on hand items such as baking soda and vinegar can save a trip to the store.

Boxes:

won't fit into a box (e.g., a couch), then keep a running list of them. Box 2: Repair. While you're cleaning and decluttering, you may come across items that need repairs, put it in the box- be realistic about whether it is worth repairing
Box 3: Put-Away Box. Say you're cleaning out a drawer in your kitchen and you find receipts. Add them temporarily to a put-away box to not get sidetracked from your original task
Box 4: Garbage / Recycling – things that just need to leave the space once and for all

Keep a pen and paper handy or make a list on your phone during the spring cleaning process for ideas that pop up along the way. Things you wanted to do, or organize (ie photos); people you wanted to contact, fixtures that need repair or regrouting, etc.

We hope this list helps. If you need a hand with any or all of your spring cleaning, including decluttering – or if a family member or loved one needs a hand, we are here for you, and them.
